ABSTRACT

This 2,380-item annotated bibliography is a selective list of books and articles related to foreign language pedagogy. The entries are grouped by topic, in the following individual sections: Festschriften and Other Analyzed Collections, General, Bilingualism, Linguistics, Culture, Teaching the Foreign Literature, Curricular Problems and Developments, Materials, Physiology and Psychology of Language Learning, Teacher Education and Certification, Methods, Equipment, and Testing. Each individual section is further divided into subsections as determined by the subject matter presented. The section on Culture, for instance, has the subsections African, American and English, American Indian, and Chinese, among others. Each entry is cross-referenced to others in the bibliography, and the entries are also accessible through the author index. (CLK)

ACTFL ANNUAL BIBLIOGRAPHY

Introduction

This selective compilation of books and articles related to foreign language pedagogy is the eighth such listing to appear under the name of the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (ACTFL). Compiled from a master list of more than 300 journals and reference sources, this bibliography is the result of a cooperative effort involving: (1) the ACTFL Committee on Bibliography for 1974, an all-volunteer group of foreign language educators and professionals from other fields; (2) the ERIC Clearinghouse on Languages and Linguistics, located at the Center for Applied Linguistics, Arlington, Virginia, which provided funds for supplies, communications, manuscript preparation, and publication; (3) the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages, which provided funding to ease the transfer of editorial responsibilities from Minneapolis to Pullman; and (4) the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures, Washington State University, which allowed the bibliography staff to use needed equipment and also made available the working and storage space necessary for completion of the 1974 compilation.

The present bibliography, while similar in format to the 1973 ACTFL Annual Bibliography (New York: ACTFL, 1976), differs in scope from its predecessor in two important ways. First, items which have been processed into "ERIC Document Lists" of the ERIC Clearinghouse on Languages and Linguistics are not included, although some duplication of effort is, of course, inevitable. The serious researcher is advised to use the 1974 ACTFL Annual Bibliography in conjunction with the appropriate "ERIC Document Lists," which have been published periodically in the Modern Language Journal and in Foreign Language Annals. These lists are also available in local microfiche collections and can also be ordered in both microfiche and in paper copy from the ERIC Document Reproduction Service (EDRS), Computer Microfilm International Corporation, P.O. Box 190, Arlington, Virginia 22210. ED numbers for all "ERIC Document Lists" may be obtained by writing to the ERIC Clearinghouse on Languages and Linguistics, 1611 North Kent Street, Arlington, Virginia 22209.

Second, because the committee was unable in many instances to obtain actual copies of books entered in the present bibliography, much less use has been made in this compilation than in previous bibliographies of the section on "Festschriften and Other Analyzed Collections." As a result many book entries which normally would have appeared in the initial section of the bibliography, and which would have been cross-referenced with other sections, have been classified by title only within the most appropriate section.

The 1974 ACTFL Annual Bibliography continues a tradition of American bibliographical endeavor concerning foreign language pedagogy. The writer wishing a detailed overview of scholarship in this area should consult: (1) Emma Birkmaier & Dale L. Lange, "Selective Bibliography on the Teaching of Foreign Languages, 1920-1966," FLA 1(1968):318-32; (2) John T. Harmon, ed., "1967 ACTFL Bibliography," FLA 1(1967-68):80-90; 178-81; 270-80; 371-81; (3) Sigmund S. Birkenmayer, "A Selected Bibliography of Works Related to the Teaching of Slavic Languages and Literatures in the United States and Canada, 1942-1967": [EDRS: ED 025 988]; (4) the 1968, 1969, 1970, 1971, and 1972 ACTFL Annual Bibliographies, compiled and edited by Dale L. Lange; and (5) the 1973 ACTFL Annual Bibliography, compiled by Dale L. Lange, edited by David P. Benseler (New York: ACTFL, 1976).

Using the ACTFL Bibliography

Researchers in foreign language education may approach the bibliography from several perspectives. First, by topic (the bibliography contains individual sections for each of the following topics: Festschriften and Other Analyzed Collections; General; Bilingualism; Linguistics; Culture; Teaching the Foreign Literature; Curricular Problems and Developments; Materials; Physiology and Psychology of Language Learning; Teacher Education and Certification;

Methods; Equipment; Testing); second, by sub-topic (each individual section has several sub-sections as determined by the subject matter presented--the user can best become familiar with the format of each by scanning the sections; third, by author (consult the "Index of Authors," pp. 170-89 below).

The following specific examples drawn from the present compilation should suffice to enable the user to understand the style employed for bibliography entries:

1) Entry 239: Swanson, Maria M. "Bilingual Education: The National Perspective." [F 8]:75-127. This item, as denoted by the [F], is an essay which appeared on pp. 75-127 in the book Responding to New Realities, listed as entry number 8 in the "Festschriften and Other Analyzed Collections" section.

2) Entry 886: Clarke, Roger A. Soviet Economic Facts, 1917-70. London: Macmillan, 1973. This item refers to a book published in 1973 and not included in the ACTFL Bibliography for that year; a book entry appearing in the present bibliography without a date (see entry number 284) indicates that the year of publication was 1974.

3) Entry 473: Sadler, J.D. "Semantics--The Ups and Downs." CJ 68(1973):262-67. This entry refers to an essay published on pages 262-67 of volume 68 of the Classical Journal and not entered in the ACTFL Bibliography for that year. Abbreviations (e.g. CJ) may be interpreted by consulting the "Master List and Table of Abbreviations" found on pp. 5-16 of the present bibliography. Essay entries appearing without a date (see entry number 992) refer to similar works published in 1974.

4) Entry 1323: Hirai, Bernice K. "An Evaluation of the Japanese Language Program in the Secondary Schools of the State of Hawaii." DAI 35:1960A-61A(Indiana). This entry refers to a doctoral dissertation completed in 1974 and abstracted in volume 35, pages 1960A-61A, of Dissertation Abstracts International. The parenthetical notation at the end of the entry indicates that the doctoral degree was awarded by Indiana University.

5) Following entry number 366 (in LINGUISTICS) the notation "See also 237,512,2014" appears. This cross-reference is to those entry numbers of the present bibliography. It indicates that those entries are also pertinent to other sections of the bibliography and should be consulted by anyone doing research concerning the grammatical aspects of linguistics. Similar cross-references will be found throughout the bibliography. In each instance they indicate entries pertinent to more than one section.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The continuation in any form of the ACTFL Annual Bibliography would have been impossible without considerable effort on the part of several key individuals. The ACTFL Bibliography Committee extends its sincere thanks to Dr. A. Hood Roberts and Dr. Peter A. Eddy, both of the Center for Applied Linguistics; Mr. C. Edward Scebold of the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages; and to Dr. B. A. Nugent and Dr. Jean-Charles Seigneuret of Washington State University. A special note of thanks is in order for the editorial assistant, Terrie J. Schmidt, without whose strong sense of duty and professional dedication this compilation might still be listed among the desiderata of foreign language education.

FUTURE COMPILATIONS OF THE 'ACTFL ANNUAL BIBLIOGRAPHY'

The ACTFL Committee on Bibliography is currently gathering material for both the 1975 and 1976 compilations. The Committee hopes to have both editions ready for use by the summer of 1977. When the bibliography has thus been brought up-to-date, the Committee then plans to have future issues of this research tool available by June of the calendar year following that listed in each compilation's title. The 1977 bibliography, for example, should be available for use in June of 1978. Authors are urged to send offprints of articles and notices of pertinent books for listing in the ACTFL Annual Bibliography to David P. Benseler, ACTFL Bibliographer, Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures, Washington State University, Pullman, Washington 99163.

CAL·ERIC/CLL SERIES ON LANGUAGES AND LINGUISTICS

ERIC (Educational Resources Information Center) is a nationwide network of information centers, each responsible for a given educational level or field of study. ERIC is supported by the National Institute of Education of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. The basic objective of ERIC is to make current developments in educational research, instruction, and personnel preparation more readily accessible to educators and members of related professions.

The ERIC Clearinghouse on Languages and Linguistics (ERIC/CLL), one of the specialized clearinghouses in the ERIC system, is operated by the Center for Applied Linguistics. ERIC/CLL is specifically responsible for the collection and dissemination of information in the general area of research and application in languages, linguistics, and language teaching and learning.

In addition to processing information, ERIC/CLL is also involved in information synthesis and analysis. The Clearinghouse commissions recognized authorities in languages and linguistics to write analyses of the current issues in their areas of specialty. The resultant documents, intended for use by educators and researchers, are published under the title CAL·ERIC/CLL Series on Languages and Linguistics. The series includes practical guides for classroom teachers, extensive state-of-the-art papers, and selected bibliographies.

The material in this publication was prepared pursuant to a contract with the National Institute of Education, U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. Contractors undertaking such projects under Government sponsorship are encouraged to express freely their judgment in professional and technical matters. Prior to publication, the manuscript was submitted to the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages for critical review and determination of professional competence. This publication has met such standards. Points of view or opinions, however, do not necessarily represent the official view or opinions of either the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages or the National Institute of Education.

This publication will be announced in the ERIC monthly abstract journal Resources in Education (RIE) and will be available from the ERIC Document Reproduction Service, Computer Microfilm International Corporation, P.O. Box 190, Arlington, Virginia 22210. See RIE for ordering information and ED number.

For further information on the ERIC system, ERIC/CLL, and the CAL·ERIC/CLL information series, write to ERIC Clearinghouse on Languages and Linguistics, Center for Applied Linguistics, 1611 North Kent Street, Arlington, Virginia 22209.
